

A Level Product Design Induction Task

- Introduction: Welcome to A Level Product Design.
I hope the course broadens your understanding of product design and enables you to both appreciate the depth of knowledge and skill required to create well made products and enable you to produce high quality practical work yourselves. Of course, I hope you find the experience rewarding and enjoyable.
- Task: Show and tell
What product are you passionate about?
You are going to put together a presentation about a product or a range of products you are passionate about. This can be anything except your mobile phone. In the presentation you need to:
- Explain what the product is*
 - Who designed it and what other products they have designed*
 - Why are you passionate about the product? Do you own / use the product?*
- If you have the product, please bring it in to show with your presentation.
- Additional: No additional resources are needed from school to complete this task.
- Due: Be ready to present during your first Product Design lesson in September.
- Set by: If you have any queries regarding the task set please contact Mr Fawcett - sef@hardenhuish.wilts.sch.uk
- Expected Time Commitment The work set should take you approximately 3 hours.
