Food related issues are often in the headlines and can cause panic and concern.

Pick a recent headline which catches your eye/interest and write a report of it. This should be a maximum of 2 sides of A4, (you can use one from below or another that you find independently)

Discuss / debate the content including, reasons why you find it interesting, additional statistics/research to back up the report or to dispel the reported facts and how as an individual, family, community, and global nation we can work to limit some of these statics and ways of life.
